Pit Bulls love people
so are not good guard dogs.
They will protect their family
if they are part of the family and live inside the house.

Pit Bulls have very short hair and get cold.
They should sleep inside the house or have a warm kennel.

- Pit Bulls love people so are not good guard dogs. They will protect their family if they are part of the family and live inside the house.
- Don't allow them to roam freely in your neighbourhood.
- Keep your Pit Bull safe from being stolen. It's best if people can't see them from the road.
- Stolen dogs are sometimes used by bad people for breeding and fighting.
- Microchip them & have a name tag on their collar with your phone number in case they get lost.
- Grooming your dog is a great way to bond and build trust.
- Pit Bulls have very short hair and get cold. They should sleep inside the house or have a warm kennel.

Pit Bulls need:

- to move freely around your yard, unrestrained - without a chain
- love and attention
- cuddles
- to be part of a human family
- good quality food
- exercise
- toys.

If you have a Pit Bull:

- get help with training your dog
- spend time with your dog and make them part of the family
- take the dog to the vet if they are unwell and remember their annual vaccinations
- make sure your dog has strong toys that they cannot swallow or choke on.

To prevent aggressive behaviour Pit Bulls must:

- have enough exercise
- have human company and attention
- be kept busy
- be sterilised
- feel safe
- be well socialised as a puppy
- not have other dogs around them.

Responsible Pet Ownership

Pit Bulls

If you get a Pit Bull puppy please understand that this breed needs a lot of attention, love and special care. A Pit Bull needs a responsible owner who knows how much work and training is needed to care for them.

Pit Bulls...

- ... need 45 minutes of exercise every day.
- ... can be aggressive to other dogs.
- ... are strong and difficult to control.
- ... need their ears and tails to 'talk' to us and other dogs.
- ... have prey instinct and like to catch livestock.
- ... are great escape artists - digging, jumping and climbing!
- ... eat a lot.
- ... need lots of training.
- ... have feelings and LOVE people.

THE LAW SAYS:

If your dog chases and hurts someone's chickens, cows, goats etc. YOU WILL HAVE TO PAY.

If your dog bites someone it is YOUR FAULT!

SIT

Kindness is strength. Being kind is more COOL than a fake image.
